Atmospheric Coal Oil Gas Lamp!

ARTIFICIAL LIGHT OF SOME SORT, IS A UNIversal necessity. A Safe, Cheap and Brilliant one is a Luxury—a luxury only enjoyed heretofore by those who live in large cities where Gas is used. Years of study and much capital have been exhausted in experiments to produce a lamp wherein the ordinary Kerosene or Coal Oil could be used without a chimney and without unpleasant odor while in use. That fruitful source of expense, trouble and annoyance, the chimney, is in DANFORD'S COAL OIL GAS LAMP avoided. It is the most perfect Lamp and will entirely supersede all other Coal Oil Lamps; it is the cheapest artificial light that can be used, yielding the light of an ordinary six foot Gas burner for less than ½ cent per hour, or double the quantity of light of an ordinary Chimney Lamp, for one third the cost. It will burn when turned down to a taper-light ten hours for a cent, is free from smoke, can be carried from room to room and the wind will not blow it out. These LAMPS will be on exhibition and for sale at the Music and Art Gallery of Shanahan & Dufrene, corner of Morrison and First streets.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO OCTOBER 3.

Monetary.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The Post's money article says: There is a slight lull in the speculative feeling in Wall street, but whether its favor has spent its force is by no means certain. ... is lower and less active to-day. It is a ... delivery. The loan market is more active, and symptoms developed during the last few days are interpreted by conservative bankers to presage a growing activity which may in a little time ... one of unchecked temporary stringency. The stock market is less active. Government stocks are steady and railroad shares are irregular and lower. The Java took out for Europe to-day $22,153 in silver.

From Canada

OTTAWA, C. W., Oct. 3.—The Executive Council sat for several hours last night. It is reported that important dispatches relative to the Fenians were received.

The Board of Trade passed a resolution that American and British silver will be taken hereafter at 4 ₩ cent discount.

The Flow of Gold from Europe.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The London Review has the following: The flow of gold to the United States has continued on a ... larger scale than had been looked for. The most satisfactory feature in the movement is the confidence it shows in the permanency of peace in America, that so far as investors are concerned, a renewal of the civil war is considered in the highest degree remote.

Death of Rear Admiral Gregory.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Rear Admiral Francis H. Gregory of the United States Navy, died very suddenly at eight o'clock this morning in Brooklyn.

Santa Anna Again.

The headquarters of Santa Anna continue to be thronged with visitors. Gen. A. Buckley, President of the Knights of the Golden Circle, has offered his services in sympathy to the cause. Gen. Sweeny had a long interview with the old chieftain yesterday on the subject of Fenian enlistments. The ... of Gen. Ortega, the rival claimant to the distinguished honor of delivering the Mexican Republic, exhibit bitter hatred of Santa Anna. They claim that he is a spy of the French Government, and that they have documents to prove it. Gen. Ortega will leave the city soon for Mexico.

Missionary Anniversary.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The Missionaries of the Protestant Episcopal Church, hold their 31st anniversary meeting at the Church of Ascension in this city. The committees' reports of dioceses and foreign missions were read and accepted. The annual sermon was delivered in the morning, by the Right Reverend H. C. Ladd, D. D., Missionary Bishop to the Southwest. A centenary was held yesterday evening in the Seventh street Methodist Episcopal Church. Addresses were made by the Rev. Mr. Woodruff, Rev. W. A. Doole, Rev. L. S. Wood, and others. The consecration of Rev. Channing Moore Williams as Missionary Bishop to China and Japan took place yesterday at St. John's Episcopal Church in this city; 24 bishops were present and upward of 100 ministers. The ceremony was of a very impressive and interesting character.

Laying a Corner-Stone.

The corner-stone of the new Church for the use of Rev. Mr. Osgood's congregation was laid yesterday at the corner of Park Avenue and 39th street. Appropriate addresses were delivered by Drs. Osgood, Bellows and Chapin, and a large collection of articles were deposited under the stone.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—By the ship Alice, which arrived yesterday, we have news from Papiete to Aug. 7th.

The Spanish fleet had left, with the exception of Uncle Sam, which was sold to John Brander of Papiete, and Matauro, which sailed four days afterwards under sealed orders, it was said, for Manilla.

Judge Rix has remanded Tom Donahue to the custody of the sheriff to be held for a period of 40 days, in order to allow ample time for a requisition to arrive from Oregon. The court finds that Donahue was indicted and tried for the murder of Ferd Patterson in Walla Walla, and escaped pending his second trial. These facts are deemed sufficient to warrant detention for a reasonable time.

Thomas Newman, of the firm of Newman Brothers, dealers in wooden and willow ware, who failed on Saturday last, together with Samuel Light and Frank Happersett, two of his clerks, has been arrested on a charge of having set fire to their store on the 15th ult., for the purpose of recovering $50,000 insurance. Newman was released on $5,000 bail, and the clerks on $1,000 bail each. The appearance of the premises bear unmistakable proofs of their being set on fire.

The Academy of Music was opened last evening by the minstrels, having among their number Billy Sheppard, the Ethiopian performer who killed Ben Ballou at Virginia City some time since. A large number of Ballou's friends were in the gallery, and the appearance of Sheppard on the stage was the signal for a row, the occupants of the gallery hooting and shouting murder, and for a short time a serious difficulty was feared. A large brick bat was thrown at Sheppard by some one in the crowd, and the demonstrations were assuming a serious character when policemen were procured and the gallery restored to order and the performance proceeded without interruption.

In the Johnson Island suit of C. Donnovan vs George D. Naglee the jury returned a verdict for Naglee almost immediately after retiring. The allegations in the complaint were not proved.

Andrew Aikin and Thomas Coleman filed their petitions in insolvency to-day.

The case of Aug. Kunast vs. Frederick Hess, proprietor of the California Demokrat German paper in this city, is on trial in the 15th District Court. The plaintiff seeks to recover $10,000 for the publication of an alleged libelous article in the form of a communication in this paper, to the effect that a certain mining secretary and stock broker was attempting to swindle the stockholders, and denounced them all, trustees and secretary, as scoundrels, and other language of an equally offensive character. The article was published and the suit commenced over a year ago.

INDIAN TROUBLES ON THE PLAINS.

The following is from the Helena Gazette:

From parties just arrived over the Powder river road, we learn still further of Indian barbarities and practices this season, and the abuses put upon the immigration by the sham treaties of Government Commissioners and commandants at Laramie, Reno and Phil. Kearney.

On completion of the treaty at Laramie with a few of the squaws and papooses of the Sioux and Cheyennes, about the 15th of July, the war commenced—the Sioux taking all their women, children and stolen stock to the Republican river and quickly returning to the roads to massacre and destroy wherever opportunity offered.

In the neighborhood of Brown's Springs, about the 21st of July, were captured and killed three men from near Peoria, Ill., named Charles Keating, Josiah R. White and Raymond. At the same place, the 23d, Phillips train from Leavenworth was attacked by about 150 Indians, Phillips losing two or three teamsters, the Indians pursuing, and attacking for four days. On the 22d of July Kirkendall's train was attacked and a stampede of stock attempted while lying on Powder river, opposite Fort Reno, and same date Lieut. N. H. Daniels in command of a small party of soldiers was killed on Crazy Woman's Fork, receiving twenty two arrows in his body, losing the whole crown of his head, his fingers and toes cut off and other indignities practiced which would pale a Spanish inquisition.

Between Clear Fork of Powder and Crazy Woman, on the 24th of July, Kirkendall's train, in company with Tootle & Leech's, was attacked at noon and wagon master Dill killed. On the 23d of July three miles from Fort Phil Kearny, French Pete and party, six in number, were massacred, and news came to the Fort of the massacre of two emigrant trains—numbering in all some eighteen men and six or eight children, the women being held in captivity—between Wind Creek and Antelope Springs. During the months of July and August, Capt. Burton, Hempstead, Dan. Dierson, George F. Provost, Samuel ..., ... Dearborn, Chas. Monroe, Alex. Sumner, Wm. Thompson, Captain Floyd, and eight men names not known, were killed between Brown's Springs and Phil Kearny. Two trains are now corralled at Wind Creek ... Big Horn, unable to continue the journey, their stock having been run off in the mountains.

This side of Big Horn immigrants and freighters have not been troubled a great deal, and we only learn of three persons having been killed—the Rev. W. R. Thomas, Charles K. Thomas, and Joseph Shultz, the two former from Illinois and the latter from Canada. They were killed on the Yellowstone, fifteen miles below the ferry, on the 24th of August. To the present date 79 persons are known to have been murdered on the Powder river road, by the Indians, and the story is not probably half told.

NEW GULCH.

A new gulch has been discovered in the Wind river mountains containing gold, some excitement has been raised. Whether anything has been discovered to cause a stampede we doubt very much.

THE WILD PILGRIM LODE

Located on Green Horn Gulch, has recently assayed $451 in gold and $100 in silver to the ton.

AFFAIRS IN THE BITTER ROOT VALLEY

We are just in receipt of some items from this flourishing section which may be briefly condensed as follows: Good prospects had been obtained within eight miles of Fort Owen, and quite extensive preparations were being made for mining. The superabundance of water was the greatest drawback. A drain-ditch has been dug half a mile in length, and a shaft sunk thirty feet. The gold is fine and flaky, ... through several feet of washed gravel. Men were returning from the Salmon river stampede pronouncing it a humbug. The farmers of the Bitter Root valley are delighted with the results of the harvest. They have produced not less than twenty five thousand bushels of wheat, probably five thousand bushels of oats, and all manner of common vegetables ad libitum. Flour was selling at the mill at $12 50 per hundred pound sack, and beef at 12@15c per pound.

FROM IDAHO.

The Idaho Times says: We feasted our eyes on a huge brick yesterday manufactured by F. Heller, assayer for Messrs. Vantine & Co., weighing over 177 ounces, and valued at $2,867; fineness 783.

Several of the ... on Minear's creek continue to yield from $5,000 to $6,000 per week. Among them are the claims of Redmond & Co., Clifton & Co., the French Co., Mc Northcutt & Co., etc.

The Statesman says there will be a scarcity of dwellings in Boise City for families, and comfortable houses are hard to obtain at even a very high rent. The following items are from the Statesman of the 27th and 29th ult.:

A rumor was afloat yesterday morning to the effect that the Idaho prospecting party had been attacked by Indians in the Wind river valley and eighty of the men killed. Could not learn anything very reliable in regard to the foundation of the rumor. Dick Reynolds writes to us from Mountain Meadow, Sept. 25th: "A messenger came along here yesterday and stated that eighty of the Wind river party from Boise City had been killed in Wind river valley by Indians. Doubtless you have heard the particulars." Mr. Thos. Oakley came down on the last night's stage from Bear river and is of opinion that the report was unfounded. We are inclined to doubt its truth, because we don't believe there are Indians enough in that country to kill eighty of these men in a fight.

TESTS EQUAL EXPECTATIONS

Chief Justice Lowe of Iowa, who came to Owyhee some weeks since to examine the ledges with a view to invest for himself and others, has made as thorough an examination as could be done in the time, and considers the prospect encouraging. He has made a personal inspection of all ledges now yielding ore, nearly all prospects in the various districts, and tested considerable ore on hand by mill process. The more careful tests were of quartz from the Forrest ledge, in Flint, and the Mayflower, in Quicksilver district. In the trials of the ore from these two ledges every measure is taken to prevent deception or average results. At different stages of grinding in the pans small quantities of the pulp was dipped out, mixed and assayed; the amalgam assayed, as was the tailings. The process has been repeated, with, and without the ores being roasted. Rock assays have not been taken as a basis of calculation of the value of ledges by Judge Lowe. In arriving at conclusions he has been governed by such processes alone as can be made practical on a large scale. He has decided to erect two ten stamp mills in Flint district as early in the spring as machinery can be freighted there; also to tunnel War Eagle Mountain commencing at a point near Minear's Mill. It is expected to strike the heart of the mountain at least a thousand feet below the surface. The Judge represents in himself and others, abundant capital to carry into effect these enterprises. He believes that all this region is rich and a safe one for investment; not that everything claimed will pay, but that when the mines are better opened and the mountains fairly prospected, the richer and more extensive will the deposits of the precious metals be found to exist. He goes East next week accompanied by Uriah Perry, who has been instrumental in getting these companies represented by Judge Lowe.

COWARDLY ASSAULT

Mr. A. Wyatt, a citizen of this place, has been this week on a visit to Idaho City, with his family. One evening while there, he sat in Boston and Cody's saloon, talking to a man whom he had seen in Boise City. The man asked to see his derringer, which he handed to him, and immediately another ruffian knocked him down by a blow on the side of the head. A scuffle ensued between him and the two, in which Mr. Wyatt received a cut in the thigh from a large knife aimed at his side. A friend of his interfered and he got away. On going into the street he met an officer, Morg. Davis, to whom he complained of being treated badly. Davis replied that they had him "spotted as a vigilante," and took no further notice of the matter. From Mr. W.'s statement it seems to have been a plot to assassinate him. Whether he is a "vigilante" or not, we venture the opinion that a little of that kind of ... had better be made to go a long way.

FROM VICTORIA

By the arrival of the Fideliter we have dates to the 2d inst. We clip the following from Victoria papers:

Among the passengers by the Active was Hon. Elwood Evans, the Secretary of Washington Territory, who is on his way home from Washington City.

ANNEXATION MEETING

Annexation to the United States is now the great question of the day in Victoria. On Saturday, Sept. 29th, an enthusiastic public meeting was held in the Victoria Theatre, at which the following preamble and resolutions were passed:

Whereas, Nature has given to Vancouver Island resources calculated to make her the great manufacturing country on the Pacific coast, but owing to the fact of the United States market being shut out from the Island by the heavy import duties of the Republic, those resources have lain and are destined to lie for years undeveloped; and whereas the Government of the colony has been hitherto of an illiberal and expensive character, standing in the way of the settlement of the country, and oppressing the people with taxation beyond their capacity; and whereas Her Majesty's Government has, by the late act of union, taken away even the few checks which the people previously had on ... extravagance and oppression, and reduced the population to political servitude.

Be it Resolved, That a respectful petition to Her Majesty be drawn up for general signature, pointing out the impossibility of this colony being settled so long as it is excluded from the markets of the United States, and so long as the Government is irresponsible as well as unduly expensive to the people, and praying to Her Majesty as the only remedy for the present disastrous state of things as indeed the only salvation of the country, that Her Majesty would be graciously pleased to order the immediate restitution of our political rights, with the full measure of responsible Government, and the best efforts of Her Ministers to obtain for this colony reciprocity with the United States—failing in this, that Her Majesty would be graciously pleased to make such arrangements with the Government of the United States as will admit of this colony being annexed to the said United States, showing at the same time the regret which, as British subjects, the petitioners feel in asking for a severance of their connection with the mother country, but showing also that a people accustomed to the political privileges of freemen cannot submit passively to a system of government that places them in the humiliating attitude of serfs.

The Telegraph announces that Governor Kennedy will probably get the governorship of South Australia, with a salary of £4000.

OUTRAGE AND ATTEMPT AT MURDER.

A colored family, residing about ten miles from here on the Saanich road, were the victims of a fearful outrage and attempt at murder on September 25th. The family consisted of a man named Freddison, his wife, a daughter aged 14, and a colored deserter from the U. S. steamer Saginaw, who had being working a bit of land for his "grub." On Tuesday, Freddison went from home and his wife took a gun and proceeded to the garden to shoot blue jays, and, while thus engaged, she was approached by the deserter, who seized and threw her down, forced a quantity of morphine into her mouth, tied her clothes over her head and struck her on the back of the head with the handle of an ax, producing insensibility. The scoundrel then repaired to the house, seized the girl, forced a lot of morphine into her mouth and pressed her throat until she was nearly strangled, when he effected his vile purpose. The villain left his second victim lying on the ground insensible, and ransacked every trunk and drawer in the house. He then went into the kitchen and laid in a supply of bread, butter and bacon and made for the woods. The old woman recovered her senses yesterday morning, and Dr. Davie, who examined her, does not consider her injuries fatal. The girl lay for three hours after her violator fled, when she revived, after hiding several hours and alarmed the neighbors. The perpetrator of these outrages is said to have murdered a man quite recently in Honolulu. Williams was followed on Wednesday by Sergeant Farrall, and traced to an Indian rancherie at North Saanich nearly opposite Mr. Fay's, where he was arrested.

ACCIDENT AT ... BAY

On Saturday, Sept. 22, two carpenters in the employ of the Phœnix Coal Company, met with a narrow escape from death. They put to sea in a canoe which upset in a tide-rip. They succeeded in holding on the frail bark until Mr. Agnesley, the Assistant Engineer of the mine swam out with a line, which he made fast to the canoe and she was hauled ashore. The men who thus escaped a watery grave are named Thomas Williams and Thomas Jones.

BURNING OF A NEWSPAPER OFFICE.

The British Columbian newspaper office at New Westminster was destroyed by fire on Saturday evening, Sept. 22d. Everything was destroyed and the property—valued at $4,000—was uninsured. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary.

STARVING HIMSELF TO DEATH

Jim, the Cowichan Indian who was convicted of stealing clothes from the person of Robert Urin, the victim of the Pandora street murder, is literally starving himself to death. For nineteen days up to yesterday he had not eaten a thing. He was visited yesterday by Rev. Mr. Browning, who prevailed upon him to take a little sugar. Jim says that his tum-tum is broken, that he was wrongfully convicted, and that all he asks is to be allowed to die. The wretched man is wasted to a shadow and has become so weak that he can scarcely speak.

VERY LIKE A WHALE.

When the Volunteers were crossing Esquimalt harbor returning from Saturday's rifle match, a large black fish appeared partly above the water at some two or three hundred yards distance. A few rifle bullets were immediately fired at it, two of which, it is thought, took effect, and when about to bear down and finish him with a harpoon in the shape of a bayonet he suddenly turned flukes, though showing signs of having been wounded.

SOMETHING NEW!
THE NEW LIGHT!
DANFORD'S
Atmospheric Coal Oil Gas Lamp!

ARTIFICIAL LIGHT OF SOME SORT, IS A UNIversal necessity. A Safe, Cheap and Brilliant one is a Luxury—a luxury only enjoyed heretofore by those who live in large cities where Gas is used. Years of study and much capital have been exhausted in experiments to produce a lamp wherein the ordinary Kerosene or Coal Oil could be used without a chimney, and without unpleasant odor while in use. That fruitful source of expense, trouble and annoyance, the chimney, is in DANFORD'S COAL OIL GAS LAMP avoided; it is the most perfect Lamp and will entirely supersede all other Coal Oil Lamps; it is the cheapest artificial light that can be used, yielding the light of an ordinary six foot Gas burner for less than ½ cent per hour, or double the quantity of light of an ordinary Chimney Lamp, for one third the cost. It will burn when turned down to a taper-light, ten hours for a cent, is free from smoke, can be carried from room to room and the wind will not blow it out. These LAMPS will be on exhibition and for sale at the Music and Art Gallery of Shanahan & Dufrene, corner of Morrison and First streets.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO OCTOBER 5.

Monetary.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The Post's money article says: There is a slight lull in the speculative feeling in Wall street, but whether its favor has spent its force is by no means certain. Gold is lower and less active to-day. It is also more plentiful for delivery. The loan market is more active, and symptoms developed during the last few days are interpreted by conservative bankers to presage a growing activity which may in a little time end in one of unchecked temporary stringency. The stock market is less active. Government stocks are steady and railroad shares are irregular and lower. The Java took out for Europe to-day $92,163 in silver.

From Canada.

OTTAWA, C. W., Oct. 3.—The Executive Council sat for several hours last night. It is reported that important dispatches relative to the Fenians were received.

The Board of Trade passed a resolution that American and British silver will be taken hereafter at 5 ⅌ cent. discount.

The Flow of Gold from Europe.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The London Review has the following: The flow of gold to the United States has continued on a somewhat larger scale than had been looked for. The most satisfactory feature in the movement is the confidence it shows in the permanency of peace in America, that so far as investors are concerned, a renewal of the civil war is considered in the highest degree remote.

Death of Rear Admiral Gregory.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Rear Admiral Francis H. Gregory of the United States Navy, died very suddenly at eight o'clock this morning, in Brooklyn.

Santa Anna Again.

The headquarters of Santa Anna continue to be thronged with visitors. Gen. A. Buckley, President of the Knights of the Golden Circle, has offered his services and sympathy to the cause. Gen. Sweeny had a long interview with the old chieftain yesterday on the subject of Fenian enlistments. The adherents of Gen. Ortega, the rival claimant to the distinguished honor of delivering the Mexican Republic, exhibit bitter hatred of Santa Anna. They claim that he is a spy of the French Government, and that they have documents to prove it. Gen. Ortega will leave the city soon for Mexico.

Missionary Anniversary.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The Missionaries of the Protestant Episcopal Church, held their 31st anniversary meeting at the Church of Ascension in this city. The committees' reports of dioceses and foreign missions were read and accepted. The annual sermon was delivered in the morning by the Right Reverend H. C. Ladd, D. D., Missionary Bishop to the Southwest. A centenary was held yesterday evening in the Seventh street Methodist Episcopal Church. Addresses were made by the Rev. Mr. Woodruff, Rev. W. A. Boole, Rev. L. S. Weed, and others. The consecration of Rev. Channing Moore Williams, as Missionary Bishop to China and Japan, took place yesterday at St. John's Episcopal Church in this city; 24 bishops were present and upward of 100 ministers. The ceremony was of a very impressive and interesting character.

Laying a Corner-Stone.

The corner-stone of the new Church for the use of Rev. Mr. Osgood's congregation was laid yesterday at the corner of Park Avenue and 35th street. Appropriate addresses were delivered by Drs. Osgood, Bellows and Chapin, and a large collection of articles were deposited under the stone.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—By the ship Alice, which arrived yesterday, we have news from Tahiti to Aug. 7th. The Spanish fleet has left, with the exception of Uncle Sam, which was sold to John Brander, of Papete, and Matmura, which sailed four days afterwards under sealed orders. It was said, for Manila.

Judge Rix has remanded Tom Donahue to the custody of the sheriff, to be held for a period of 40 days, in order to allow ample time for a requisition to arrive from Oregon. The court finds that Donahue was indicted and tried for the murder of Ford Patterson in Walla Walla, and escaped pending his second trial. These facts are deemed sufficient to warrant detention for a reasonable time.

Thomas Newman, of the firm of Newman Brothers, dealers in wooden and willow ware, who failed on Saturday last; together with Samuel Light and Frank Happersett, two of his clerks, has been arrested on a charge of having set fire to their store on the 15th ult., for the purpose of recovering $30,000 insurance. Newman was released on $5,000 bail, and the clerks on $1,000 bail each. The appearance of the premises bear unmistakable proofs of their being set on fire.

The Academy of Music was opened last evening by the minstrels, having among their number Billy Sheppard, the Ethiopian performer who killed Ben Ballou at Virginia City some time since. A large number of Ballou's friends were in the gallery, and the appearance of Sheppard on the stage was the signal for a row; the occupants of the gallery hooting and shouting murder, and for a short time a serious difficulty was feared. A large brick bat was thrown at Sheppard by some one in the crowd, and the demonstrations were assuming a serious character when policemen were procured and the gallery restored to order and the performance proceeded without interruption.

In the Johnson Island suit of C. Donnovan vs George D. Naglee the jury returned a verdict for Naglee almost immediately after retiring. The allegations in the complaint were not proven.

Andrew Aikin and Thomas Coleman filed their petitions in insolvency to-day.

The case of Aug. Ernest vs. Frederick Hess, proprietor of the California Demokrat, German paper in this city, is on trial in the 15th District Court. The plaintiff seeks to recover $10,000 for the publication of an alleged libellous article in the form of a communication in this paper, to the effect that a certain mining secretary and stock broker was attempting to swindle the stockholders, and denounced them all, trustees and secretary, as scoundrels, and other language of an equally offensive character. The article was published and the suit commenced over a year ago.

The following telegrams have been placed at our disposal:

It adopted resolutions and platform and adjourned till half-past 3 o'clock P. M. There are no nominations in either of the three Conventions—each seems to be waiting for the other.

CARSON, Oct. 4, 5 P. M.—The Union State Convention nominated H. G. Blaisdell for Governor, and Jas. Slingers and Lieut.-Gov. D. R. Ashley for Congress.

The Democratic State Convention nominated John D. Winters for Governor, and H. R. Mitchell for Congress.

FROM MONTANA.

INDIAN TROUBLES ON THE PLAINS.

The following is from the Helena Gazette:

From parties just arrived over the Powder river road, we learn still further of Indian barbarities and practices this season, and the abuses put upon the immigration by the sham treaties of Government Commissioners and commandants at Laramie, Reno and Phil. Kearney.

On completion of the treaty at Laramie, with a few of the squaws and papooses of the Sioux and Cheyennes, about the 15th of July, the war commenced—the Sioux taking all their women, children and stolen stock to the Republican river, and quickly returning to the roads to massacre and destroy wherever opportunity offered.

In the neighborhood of Brown's Springs, about the 21st of July, were captured and killed three men from near Peoria, Ill., named Charles Keating, Joseph R. White and Raymond. At the same place, the 22d, Phillips' train from Leavenworth was attacked by about 150 Indians, Phillips losing two or three teamsters; the Indians pursuing and attacking for four days. On the 22d of July, Kirkendall's train was attacked and a stampede of stock attempted while lying on Powder river, opposite Fort Reno, and same day Lieut. N. H. Daniels, in command of a small party of soldiers, was killed on Crazy Woman's Fork, receiving twenty-two arrows in his body, losing the whole crown of his head, his fingers and toes cut off and other indignities practiced which would pale a Spanish inquisition.

Between Clear Fork of Powder and Crazy Woman, on the 24th of July, Kirkendall's train, in company with Tootle & Leech's, was attacked at noon, and wagon-master Dillon killed. On the 23d of July, three miles from Fort Phil. Kearny, French Pete and party, six in number, were massacred, and news came to the Fort of the massacre of two immigrant trains—numbering in all some eighteen men and six or eight children, the women being held in captivity—between Wind Creek and Antelope Springs. During the months of July and August, Capt. Barton, Hempstead, David Gierson, George F. Provost, Samuel Therman, Tere. Fairchild, Wm. Dearborn, Chas. Monroe, Alex. Sumner, Wm Thompson, Captain Floyd, and eight men, names unknown, were killed between Brown's Springs and Phil. Kearny. Two trains are now corralled at Wind Creek, and one at Big Horn, unable to continue their journey; their stock having been run off in the mountains.

This side of Big Horn, immigrants and freighters have not been troubled a great deal, and we only learn of three persons having been killed—the Rev. W. R. Thomas, Charles K. Thomas and Joseph Shultz, the two former from Illinois, and the latter from Canada. They were killed on the Yellowstone, fifteen miles below the ferry, on the 24th of August. To the present date, 79 persons are known to have been murdered on the Powder river road, by the Indians, and the story is not probably half told.

NEW GULCH.

A new gulch has been discovered in the Wind river mountains, containing gold, some excitement has been raised. Whether anything has been discovered to cause a stampede we doubt very much.

THE WILD PILGRIM LODE.

Located on Green Horn Gulch, has recently assayed $451 in gold and $100 in silver to the ton.

AFFAIRS IN THE BITTER ROOT VALLEY.

We are just in receipt of some items from this flourishing section, which may be briefly condensed as follows: Good prospects had been obtained within eight miles of Fort Owen, and quite extensive preparations were being made for mining. The superabundance of water was the greatest drawback. A drain-ditch has been dug half a mile in length, and a shaft sunk thirty feet. The gold is fine and is dispersed through several feet of washed gravel. Men were returning from the Salmon river stampede pronouncing it a humbug. The farmers of the Bitter Root valley are delighted with the results of the harvest. They have produced not less than twenty-five thousand bushels of wheat; probably five thousand bushels of oats; and all manner of common vegetables ad libitum. Flour was selling at the mill at $12 50 per hundred-pound sack, and beef at 12@13c per pound.

FROM IDAHO.

The Idaho Times says: We feasted our eyes on a huge brick yesterday, manufactured by F. Heller, assayer, for Messrs. Vantine & Co., weighing over 177 ounces, and valued at $2,667; fineness, 783.

Several claims on Moore's creek continue to yield from $5,000 to $8,000 per week. Among them are the claims of Redmond & Co., Clifton & Co., the French Co., McNorthcutt & Co., etc.

The Statesman says there will be a scarcity of dwellings in Boise City for families, and comfortable houses are hard to obtain at even a very high rent. The following items are from the Statesman of the 27th and 29th ult.:

A rumor was afloat yesterday morning to the effect that the Idaho prospecting party had been attacked by Indians in the Wind river valley and eighty of the men killed. Could not learn anything very reliable in regard to the foundation of the rumor. Dick Reynolds writes to us from Mountain Meadow, Sept. 25th: "A messenger came along here yesterday and stated that eighty of the Wind river party from Boise City had been killed in Wind river valley, by Indians. Doubtless you have heard the particulars." Mr. Thos. Oakley came down on the last night's stage from Bear river and is of opinion that the report was unfounded. We are inclined to doubt its truth, because we don't believe there are Indians enough in that country to kill eighty of these men in a fight.

TESTS VERSUS EXPECTATIONS.

Chief Justice Lowe of Iowa, who came to Owyhee some weeks since to examine the ledges with a view to invest for himself and others, has made as thorough an examination as could be done in the time, and considers the prospect encouraging. He has made a personal inspection of all ledges now yielding ore, nearly all prospects in the various districts, and tested considerable ore on hand by mill process. The more careful tests were of quartz from the Forrest ledge, in Flint, and the Mayflower, in Quicksilver district. In the trials of the ore from these two ledges every measure is taken to prevent deception or average results. At different stages of grinding in the pans small quantities of the pulp was dipped out, mixed and assayed; the amalgam assayed, as was the tailings. The process has been repeated, with, and without the ores being roasted. Rock assays have not been taken as a basis of calculation of the value of ledges by Judge Lowe. In arriving at conclusions he has been governed by such processes alone as can be made practical on a large scale. He has decided to erect two ten stamp mills in Flint district as early in the spring as machinery can be freighted there; also to tunnel War Eagle Mountain, commencing at a point near Slocum's Mill. It is expected to strike the heart of the mountain at least a thousand feet below the surface. The Judge represents in himself and others, abundant capital to carry into effect these enterprises. He believes that all this region is rich and a safe one for investment; not that everything claimed will pay, but that when the mines are better opened and the mountains fairly prospected, the richer and more extensive will the deposits of the precious metals be found to exist. He goes East next week, accompanied by Uriah Perry, who has been instrumental in getting these companies represented by Judge Lowe.

COWARDLY ASSAULT.

Mr. A. Wyatt, a citizen of this place, has been this week on a visit to Idaho City, with his family. One evening while there, he sat in Boston and Cody's saloon, talking to a man whom he had seen in Boise City. The man asked to see his derringer, which he handed to him, and immediately another ruffian knocked him down by a blow on the side of the head. A scuffle ensued between him and the two, in which Mr. Wyatt received a cut in the thigh from a large knife aimed at his side. A friend of his interfered and he got away. On going into the street he met an officer, Morg. Davis, to whom he complained of being treated badly. Davis replied that they had him "spotted as a vigilante," and took no further notice of the matter. From Mr. W.'s statement it seems to have been a plot to assassinate him. Whether he is a "vigilante" or not we venture the opinion that a little of that kind of policing had better be made to go a long way.

FROM VICTORIA.

By the arrival of the Fidelliter we have dates to the 21 inst. We clip the following from Victoria papers:

Among the passengers by the Active was Hon. Elwood Evans, the Secretary of Washington Territory, who is on his way home from Washington City.

ANNEXATION MEETING.

Annexation to the United States is now the great question of the day in Victoria. On Saturday, Sept. 29th, an enthusiastic public meeting was held in the Victoria Theatre, at which the following preamble and resolutions were passed:

WHEREAS, Nature has given to Vancouver Island resources calculated to make her the great manufacturing country on the Pacific coast; but owing to the fact of the United States market being shut out from the Island by the heavy import duties of the Republic, those resources have lain and are destined to lie for years undeveloped; and whereas the Government of the colony has been hitherto of an illiberal and expensive character, standing in the way of the settlement of the country, and oppressing the people with taxation beyond their capacity, and whereas Her Majesty's Government has, by the late act of union, taken away even the few checks which the people previously had on Executive extravagance and oppression, and reduced the population to political servitude:

Be it Resolved, That a respectful petition to Her Majesty be drawn up for general signature, pointing out the impossibility of this colony being settled so long as it is excluded from the markets of the United States, and so long as the Government is irresponsible as well as unduly expensive to the people; and praying to Her Majesty as the only remedy for the present disastrous state of things as indeed the only salvation of the country, that Her Majesty would be graciously pleased to order the immediate restitution of our political rights, with the full measure of responsible Government, and the best efforts of Her Ministers to obtain for this colony reciprocity with the United States—failing in this, that Her Majesty would be graciously pleased to make such arrangements with the Government of the United States as will admit of this colony being annexed to the said United States; showing at the same time the regret which, as British subjects, the petitioners feel in asking for a severance of their connection with the mother country; but showing also that a people accustomed to the political privileges of freemen cannot submit passively to a system of government that places them in the humiliating attitude of serfs.

The Telegraph announces that Governor Kennedy will probably get the governorship of South Australia, with a salary of £4000.

OUTRAGE AND ATTEMPT AT MURDER.

A colored family, residing about ten miles from here, on the Saanich road, were the victims of a fearful outrage and attempt at murder on September 25th. The family consisted of a man named Freddison, his wife, a daughter aged 14, and a colored deserter from the U. S. steamer Saginaw; who had being working a bit of land for his "grub." On Tuesday, Freddison went from home, and his wife took a gun and proceeded to the garden to shoot blue-jays, and, while thus engaged, she was approached by the deserter, who seized and threw her down, forced a quantity of morphine into her mouth, tied her clothes over her head, and struck her on the back of the head with the handle of an ax, producing insensibility. The scoundrel then repaired to the house, seized the girl, forced a lot of morphine into her mouth, and pressed her throat until she was nearly strangled, when he effected his vile purpose. The villian left his second victim lying on the ground insensible, and ransacked every trunk and drawer in the house. He then went into the kitchen an laid in a supply of bread, butter, and bacon, and made for the woods. The old woman received her senses yesterday morning; and Dr. Davie, who examined her, does not consider her injuries fatal. The girl lay for three hours after her violator fled, when she revived, after hiding several hours, and alarmed the neighbors. The perpetrator of these outrages is said to have murdered a man quite recently in Honolulu. Williams was followed on Wednesday by Sargeant Farrell, and traced to an Indian rancherie at North Saanich nearly opposite Mr. Fay's, where he was arrested.

ACCIDENT AT [illegible] BAY.

On Saturday, Sept. 22, two carpenters in the employ of the Phoenix Coal Company, met with a narrow escape from death. They put to sea in a canoe which upset in a tide-rip. They succeeded in holding on the frail bark until Mr. Agnesley, the Assistant Engineer of the mine, swam out with a line, which he made fast to the canoe and she was hauled ashore. The men who thus escaped a watery grave are named Thomas Williams and Thomas Jones.

BURNING OF A NEWSPAPER OFFICE.

The British Columbian newspaper office at New Westminster, was destroyed by fire on Saturday evening, Sept. 22d. Everything was destroyed, and the property—valued at $4,000—was uninsured. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary.

STARVING HIMSELF TO DEATH.

"Jim," the Cowichan Indian who was convicted of stealing clothes from the person of Robert Urin, the victim of the Pandora street murder, is literally starving himself to death. For nineteen days, up to yesterday, he had not eaten a thing. He was visited yesterday by Rev. Mr. Browning, who prevailed upon him to take a little sugar. "Jim" says that his tum-tum is broken; that he was wrongfully convicted, and that all he asks is to be allowed to die. The wretched man is wasted to a shadow, and has become so weak that he can scarcely speak.

VERY LIKE A WHALE.

When the Volunteers were crossing Esquimalt harbor, returning from Saturday's rifle match, a large black fish appeared partly above the water at some two or three hundred yards distance. A few rifle bullets were immediately fired at it, two of which, it is thought, took effect, and, when about to bear down and finish him with a harpoon, in the shape of a bayonet, he suddenly turned to sea, though showing signs of having been wounded.

FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 5 1866

Salt Lake and Columbia River Railroad

The act granting aid in the construction of a railroad from Salt Lake to the Columbia river, passed the Senate at the late session of Congress, but was not reached by the House An effort was made in the house the day before the final ad journment to call it up but in the general rush of course it went overboard Senator Williams worked hard for the bill, and was disappointed that it did not pass the House It will come up in December, when its passage may be confidently expected It gives us pleasure to observe that in this, as well as in all other matters which relate to the interests of his State, Senator Williams has labored with a very commendable energy. He is held in high estimation at Washington, and is known as one of the soundest men and hardest workers in the Senate

What they Propose

The Richmond Examiner was one of the earliest and bitterest of rebel organs It feels the humiliation of the late Johnson Convention, but urges the South to swallow the dose. It rightly concludes that if Johnsonism shall triumph, they (the rebels) will soon have things all their own way again Hence they can afford to endure this humiliation for a little season, as it will prepare the way for a not distant triumph The Examiner gives the programme

> We found gentlemen (at Johnson's Convention), from Michigan, Iowa, Wisconsin, as well as from Massachusetts, who as cordially detest Thad Stevens and his party as we do All that is needed now is for us to foster this growing sentiment and to re-enforce it with all our might. Shoulder to shoulder with Northern conservatives let us first fight for position, and when that is gained all other desirable things will be added unto us Let us get a controlling voice in the Government, and then we have but to ask, and we shall receive.

This is truly a charming prospect. "Let us get control of the Government," say the rebels, "and then we have but to ask and we shall receive" Have not these persons who now "stoop to conquer," a clear perception of the tendencies and results of Johnsonism?

ANDREW JOHNSON ON MASSACHUSETTS AND SOUTH CAROLINA —The famous gushing arm in arm scene at Philadelphia reminds a contemporary of the following passage in a speech delivered by Andrew Johnson in the United States Senate, early in February, 1861:

> "I do not intend to be invidious, but I have sometimes thought it would be a comfort if Massachusetts and South Carolina could be chained together as the Siamese twins, separated from the continent and taken out to some remote and secluded part of the ocean, and there fast anchored to be washed by the waves and to be cooled by the winds and after they had been kept there a sufficient length of time, the people of the United States might entertain the idea of taking them back They seem to have been the source of dissatisfaction pretty much ever since they were in the Confederacy and some excitement of this sort, I think, could operate beneficially upon them, but as they are here we must try to do the best we can with them"

Is "Moses" also among the prophets?

THE TRIBUNE'S FIGURING ON THE NEW YORK ELECTION.—Horace Greeley in an article on the prospect in New York, reviews the figures of recent elections, and claims that with proper effort the Republicans will "poll at least 40,000 more votes than any party ever yet cast in that State, save the last Presidential election," and adds:

> And let none fear that we shall not make proper efforts throughout our State. We have a Congress to elect, and we shall contest every district with desperate resolution. Where our strength is over whelming, we shall work for our State ticket, where we are relatively weak, we shall fight to represent our relatives in Congress We may lose one member (gained in '64 by adverse divisions) in this city, we confidently expect to gain three, and hope for four elsewhere"

NO FRANCHISE FOR DESERTERS.—Lists of deserters from the army, and of the names of those who refused to answer after being drafted, have been published by order of the Pennsylvania State authorities. These lists, it is said, will average about one hundred and fifty names to each regiment, or an aggregate of from thirty to thirty-five thousand names. They will be sent with a copy of the act of the Legislature disfranchising deserters and non reporting drafted men to all the election officers of the State, with instructions to refuse the votes of all whose names appear upon the lists

Thirty persons were drowned on the 11th Sept, at Root river, in Minnesota, twenty miles west of La Crosse, by the sudden rise in the river Twelve of the bodies had been recovered. The Chicago Times states that Root river is one of the most remarkable streams of the Northwest Inclosed in a narrow valley, by upright hills, its waters have been known to rise to a hight of thirty feet in a single night, and to subside as suddenly.

The Herald is still shedding tears over that affecting arm in arm performance by South Carolina and Massachusetts "Extremes meet," said some one to Gen Butler, in referring to this painfully pleasing circumstance. "Yes," was the reply, " and so they do when a dog bites his own tail—but both extremes belong to the same dog."

SOUTHERN LOYALTY AND UNIONISM —On one side is the report of Commissioners Steedman and Fullerton; on the other, this four line dispatch from Mobile

> "The project for establishing a Radical paper here has been abandoned, as the editors would be mobbed, they having received several anonymous written letters."

Gen Naglee, of San Francisco, who owns a large tract of land in San Joaquin county, Cal, proposes to plant mulberry trees on four hundred acres and engage in the culture of silk on a large scale.

Shooting of Johnny Ryan

WALLA WALLA, W. T, Oct. 2, 1866.

EDITOR OREGONIAN

On Saturday night, Sept 29th, John J Ryan and "Barney," alias William Kinney, were engaged in playing cards at the "Gem" saloon, kept by Mike Cosgrove on Main street, Walla Walla, when a dispute arose in relation to the game, and the former borrowing of money by Barney from Ryan The latter was considerably in liquor, and finally after considerable wrangling, Ryan got up, leaned on the table and after challenging Barney to fight, slapped his face as he sat in his chair, and instantly drew a Derringer Some person interposed for a moment, when Barney jumped up, and retreating sideways a few steps towards the back room, wheeled and fired The discharge extinguished the fine kerosene lamps in the room As soon as possible lights were procured and Ryan was discovered lying on the floor, moaning, with a pistol shot in his head Barney had fled Ryan lived a few minutes, but did not speak A post mortem examination showed that the ball had entered his head just above the right eye, and splitting, the larger part had lodged in the back of the neck, the smaller portion of the ball passing downwards and destroying the eye

A Coroner's inquest was held that night, and Barney having in the mean time given himself up, had a preliminary examination on Monday, Oct 1st, before Justices of the Peace O. P. Lacy and W P Horton The testimony elicited on the examination showed that Ryan must have discharged his Derringer at the same instant that Barney did his revolver, the ball having been found after it had passed through a board partition imbedded in the wall of the back room some forty feet from where Ryan stood at the time of the firing All of the witnesses, however, only testified to hearing one very heavy shot. The testimony adduced tended to show that the shooting by Barney was in self defence, and he was consequently discharged from custody Mr Ryan was a prominent citizen, being at the time of his death a member of the Common Council and Head Center of the Fenian Brotherhood in this vicinity He had a very large circle of acquaintances and friends who yesterday followed his remains to the grave He left a wife and one child, an aged father and a brother here to mourn his loss There is a void in our midst

Barney is, I believe, pretty well known to the Oregon authorities through his connection with one or two cutting and shooting scrapes in that State

FROM WASHINGTON TERRITORY

Our Olympia correspondent furnishes the following items

Rev Mr McDougall delivered another temperance sermon at the Methodist Church on Monday evening to a crowded house, after which several new converts to the Good Templars joined the order, and the following officers were installed E Gidding, W C T Mrs D R Bigelow W V T, A R Elder P W C T C A Huntington W C Jacob Summers W M Mrs S Holmes D M Miss D Hodgdon R H S Mrs Clark L H S Mr Chapman W S, Wells Elder A S J Littlejohn F S Miss Helen Elder T J H Iman W J G and H L Chapman W O G C H Hale was appointed District Deputy

As per notice about seventy Copperjohnsons gathered in solemn conclave at the Capitol yesterday afternoon The original Johnson Club came in and took part in the proceedings, having been outwitted by the old Copperhead Democrats and apparently buried all ill will in unanimity on the passage of a resolution pledging all alike to the support of Andy Johnson for the next Presidency The whole programme appeared to be cut and dried like the Philadelphia Convention of August last, as no speaking was allowed The officers were elected, resolutions read and the gathering adjourned in silence The whole thing in character action and sentiment was a copy of the Philadelphia Convention of August, on a very small scale

—FROM IDAHO.—

The following items are from the Statesman of the 27th and 29th ult

A BIG HAUL

A little the best real Indian sensation that has happened for a long time transpired last week in the Boise valley Mr James Mullaney, who is just returned from the mouth of the Payette, informs us that last Friday night the Indians made a raid on the stock of the farmers of the valley coming within twenty miles of Boise City As far as he could learn the only four horses were taken from the following: four horses from the following parties as he passed Mr ... Lowell 1, Robinson 12, Simms & Anderson 3, Baker 1, ... and another man whose name he did not learn ... Mr Huggins ... a cow ... but his horses were not convenient ... taken Three tracks were seen ... the Indians ... barefoot ... was taken across Snake river about four miles above the mouth of the Boise The most remarkable part of the affair is that no effort was made to overtake or capture the stock ... Had they been promptly pursued the next day they might probably have been retaken Some of the horses were fine Americans Our neighbors down the valley are evidently a slow coach in pursuit of Indians as Mr Mullaney says they were talking of the question of calling a meeting next Sunday to talk about it

NEWSPAPER CHANGE

Mr Jas. O'Meara has we understand purchased the interest of Mr Street in the World office and will assume the editorial control of that paper after the first of October, and has removed his family to Idaho City to be permanently located

CHINAMAN FOR BREAKFAST

The Idaho Times says About a week ago some Chinese had a free fight which brought some of them up standing in the calaboose On Saturday evening the old quarrel was resumed which resulted in the killing of "China Joe" Several shots were fired with no effect. Joe was finally stabbed in the abdomen. Several arrests were made, but so many having a hand in the plot justice will again be foiled

"O, MY PROPHETIC SOUL"—The Memphis Avalanche sees "Beast Butler" in the Presidential chair at the coming term and wails loudly thereat It dismally concludes

> His nomination by the Radicals we think is sure and his election by no means improbable Just at this time the loyalists of the country would be satisfied to give into his hands the administration of the "Monroe Doctrine" at New Orleans

COST OF A CIGAR LIGHTER—An English lord, wishing to do a little more than any of his brother aristocrats had done before him, went to a telegraph office in London, and had his cigar lighted by an electric spark from Heart's Content, sent through the Atlantic cable This feat cost him 200 guineas, or $1,050 in gold.

ELEGANT PICTURES.—ALLSWORTH & CARDWELL, 89 First St, are astonishing the art world and public generally, with the most beautiful SUN PEARLS, CARD PHOTOGRAPHS, CRAYONS, AMBROTYPES, Etc. It is useless now to go or send to San Francisco or New York for fine work, as this GALLERY can furnish every style known to the art equally as good Very young children should be brought before 12 o clock

THE CONTEST FOR U. S. SENATOR at Salem does not in the least interfere with the rapid sale of those FINE BEAVER and all other kinds of FINE BUSINESS AND BLACK SUITS at such low figures by KOHN & FISHEL, at the ST LOUIS STORE, NO 111 FRONT STREET They are CONSTANTLY RECEIVING GOODS from their House in New York, and are thus enabled to keep on hand the LATEST STYLES and at PRICES THAT DEFY COMPETITION

THE VERDICT.—But few additional particulars are learned of the sudden death of the man who was drowned in the bath tub. Mr. Jesse Dodson who lives near neighbor and friend of his, came with him to this city on Tuesday last, and says the deceased had been in bad health for some time and that he came to this city for the purpose of receiving medical advice and assistance from Drs Chapman & Watkins one of whose prescriptions was found in the vest pocket of the unfortunate The Coroner Dr Hoffman and jury met at 10 o clock yesterday and found a verdict that the deceased was Samuel H Knight of Dayton, by occupation that of saloon keeper and that he came to his death from accidental drowning in a bath tub, between the hours of five and six o clock P M. on the 3d inst. There is no doubt that his inability to help himself was superinduced by enervation from his previous ill health and the action of the warm water upon him, enfeebled as he was When the bath tender's attention was called to the fact that the door of one of the rooms was closed and fastened He climbed up and looked over the partition when he discovered the man in the bath tub, and that his head was under water The room was immediately opened and the proper officer sent for These are all the facts that can be gathered, and they seem very meagre and unsatisfactory That a man should be drowned in a bath tub, and assistance within a few feet, when the weakest cry could have been heard, seems incredible.

THE ROBBER JOKE CONTINUED.—Our friend in Powell's valley, the highwayman mentioned last Saturday sends us the following which exemplifies the truth of the old adage "that one story is good until another is told." We are glad to give our friend the benefit of his true statement which is: "The person whom I accosted with the old and thread bare words, long in stand and deliver, there is a highwayman on the road was no more or less a gentleman than a country pedagogue The challenge was not intended for him I thought I was speaking to a young and dauntless man, from whom I expected a lively response As quick as I discovered my mistake I called at the top of my voice, "Come back, man, I took you for another" But lo! no come back, but retreating with the speed of a wild goose, I was over a hundred yards from him when I used the words. It was not in Powell's valley, it was on the Foster road at Johnson's creek, where houses are very far over a mile apart He would never have known the spoke to him had I not frankly owned up to it—to his fear the balance of the road.

Oh, mounted men, how much you differ
When called to stand and to deliver
"It may be words that he demands
When he gives to you his free commands
Then you run and think it's money,
He stately stands and thinks it's funny"

POLICE COURT.—In the Police Court yesterday in the case of James Cunningham, charged with being drunk and lying upon the sidewalk in front of the Western Hotel He plead guilty, and was fined $5 and in default was sent to jail for one day The lightness of his case was in consideration of the fact that he had been suffering from ague, and had taken the liquor for medicine.——Ferguson, the man whom we spoke of as having been engaged in the fight at the Union Hotel, and being so badly beaten, was arrested for [illegible] and disorderly conduct in fighting in the street. It appears that he was very drunk, and that he was spoiling for a fight. He met the first man and pitched into him and was soon cleaned out After this fight, he [illegible] the street, to the Union Hotel, and pitched into [illegible] Wallace. He came out of this second best. His [illegible] yesterday, in Court, gave evidence of the rough manner in which he had been handled He plead guilty to the charge and was fined $5 and costs.——Wallace [illegible] with disorderly conduct, in the street fight at the Union Hotel, was fined $5 and costs.——James [illegible], the man who had the first fight with Ferguson, has not yet been arrested.

Smith, [illegible] Smith Thompson, Nicholson, and eight Chinamen.

WASSERMAN & Co., have returned to their old stand, corner of Front and Alder streets, where they have just opened a [illegible] stock of Dry Goods and Clothing, including an immense assortment of Gents' Custom Made Clothing, Furnishing Goods, etc., Ladies and Children's [illegible] for Fall and Winter Their new fire-proof brick presents quite an imposing appearance, and, in connection with their rare stock of goods, will be sure to attract the [illegible] of the fashion of Portland.

A FAIR TEST.—The Pioneer Base Ball Club of this city has received an invitation from the Club at Oregon City, to meet and play them a match game upon their grounds at Oregon City, on Saturday, the 13th inst. The Pioneers ought to make the [illegible] arrangements Let all turn out.

NEW THINGS.—The ancients said "There is no new thing under the Sun." Those who believe this old dogma, can be [illegible] convinced of their error by calling at [illegible] and looking at the new style "Capitol Hat." They are splendid, and for the races next Saturday get one of those Gents cloth Driving caps.

[illegible]—The property holders who have [illegible] the surplus to be returned on assessments for the improvement of South Front, Washington, Madison and [illegible] streets, will receive warrants on the City [illegible] for the amounts due by calling at the City [illegible]

FIRST SPEECH.—On taking the chair to preside over the Southern Loyalists' Convention in Philadelphia, Gov. Speed said

"The Southern men complain that their constitutional and natural rights are infringed upon If they complain fairly, say so If they ask more than justice demands, say they have no right to it. If they ask that the vote and power of a white man in South Carolina shall more than equal the rate and power of a white man in Pennsylvania It is an injustice, and say so If they ask less than justice, give them full measure If they ask more, deny As to the disfranchisement of rebels and the enfranchisement of the loyal black people, this subject will come before this Convention. Upon this subject, gentlemen of the Convention, all I have to say is, do nothing in anger, do nothing from hatred do nothing from ill-will or revenge, but do that which justice and right and mercy and love dictate That which the unrighteous, that which the ungodly and the bad man does from bad passion, must perish from the face of the earth, whilst that which comes from love, from mercy, from justice must be elevated Let love for mankind not for yourself, not for this man or that man, but for all men, not for this color or that color, let love for all mankind be your guide, to it dictate your every resolution, let it be your motive I tell you that such conduct will pour more bitter fires of conviction upon the heads and into the consciences of those opposed to you than all you can do from hate, all that we can do from ill-will or any feeling of revenge."

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.
READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of Health "But how?" you ask,
We answer 'tis an easy task
Strengthen the stomach and sustain
The Nerves the servants of the brain
The Liver keep in active play
And regulate from day to day
Each organ and on Nature's plan
Brace up and refresh the INNER MAN
And like a watch that's kept in chime
By constant care with railroad time
The system's force and strength renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits too
"How do you in purpose can this be done?
The Victory over Disease be won?"
'HOSTETTER'S BITTERS' we reply,
Is HEALTH'S SUPREME PROTECTION—TRY!

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system regulating every function of the internal organs reviving the depressed spirits invigorating the constitution and prolonging life no medical preparation either of the past or the present time has been so completely and universally successful as
HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

Against the vapors foul repair,
That fever taint the heavy air
Drink not unutilized the water found
In prairies wilds or marshy ground,
If sedentary toil you ply
Nature you must assist—or die—
For when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she cries
Medicine's grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent
And if you'd be relieved or spared
From ills that crush the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—for in its
They are the SUREST ANTIDOTE

To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy soils, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work rooms and factories and the baneful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be forearmed with
HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

Dyspepsia's pangs, that rack and grind
The body and depress the mind
Agues that as they go and come,
Make life a constant martyrdom;
Colics and dysenteric pains
'Neath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Bilious complaints, those fell ills,
Ne'er conquered yet by drastic pills;
Dread diarrhoea that cannot be
Cured by destructive mercury,
Slow constitutional decay
That brings Death nearer day by day;
Nervous prostration's mental gloom—
Heralds of madness or the tomb;
For these—though mineral nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at least we hail,
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS—medicine sure,
Not to prevent alone, but cure.

In dyspepsia fever and ague bilious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation, sea-sickness, spasms and in all complaints of Man or Woman, proceeding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the one great remedy and restorative is
HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

To wanderers on sea or land
From Polar shore to Tropic strand;
To households lone in regions new,
And dwellers in great cities too
To soldiers in camp fort and field,
Who need against disease a shield
To miners California bound,
And tillers of wet miry ground,
To feeble wives of fragile mould
To young and middle aged, and old
To those in health, who would enjoy
Heaven's best gifts without alloy
To all the strengthless weak and pale,
Who droop, yet know not what they ail,
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health's most potent element

If there is any value in public opinion or any weight in medical testimony the very best and safest Tonic Corrective and Alterative now before the world is

To Andrew Johnson

BY HAROLD ST. CLAIR.

Faithful among the faithless—once we thought thee—
Faithless among the faithful now thou art
To this sad depth [illegible] vain and [illegible] brought thee,
Man [illegible] and [illegible] ungrateful heart
Better for [illegible]
If thou hadst fallen when great LINCOLN died!

Treason must be made odious—This thy saying
Was echoed [illegible] the land from north to south
We [illegible] it would meet the praying
Of [illegible] with so stern a mouth
For we [illegible] vengeance [illegible]
Only would keep the victory we had won

Treason must be made odious—Thou hast done it
Traitor to friends, to country, and to right
More odious seems since now we gaze upon it
A form of darkness in a place of light
This good at least we owe to thee and fate
To hate a traitor with intenser hate

Go on, filling thy little hour of ruling
With deeds fantastic and with phrases low
We need perhaps such days of sad, stern schooling
That we true men from false may learn to know
And yet one deed it were not safe to dare—
We are [illegible] and that we will not bear

As once before we said, so now we say it—
We go before the people! If we fail,
We hear the shameful verdict and obey it,
But if we win, we'll rule—in spite of hell,
And all the powers of evil, low or high
And though a thousand traitors live or die!

The Philadelphia Platform and the Admission of Members to Congress

Near the close of the address or platform of the Johnson-Philadelphia Convention occurs the following passage:

"We call upon you in every Congressional district, in every State, to secure the election of members who, whatever other differences may characterize their political action, will all unite in recognizing the right of every State of the Union to representation in Congress, and who will admit to seats in either branch every loyal representative from every State in allegiance to the Government, who may be found by each House, in the exercise of the power conferred upon it by the Constitution, to have been duly elected, returned and qualified for a seat there."

Elsewhere in this address the present Congress of the United States is gravely charged with wrongfully assuming to itself the power and authority to exclude at its own discretion, arbitrarily, the people of any State from representation, and the possible evil consequences of such power, if once allowed, are portrayed without stint. Now what is the real difference between the action imputed to the present Congress and the doctrine implied in this extract from the address? In practice, what constitutes the difference between the power to exclude the people of any State at any time from representation and the power to exclude the representative of any State because he is disloyal or the State from which he comes "is not in allegiance to the Government?" In fact and effect there is no distinction between the two propositions. The difference, if any, is only in appearance—one of words and phrases. The authors of the address evidently intended to make the position of Congress odious and untenable if possible, and at the same time for the purpose of propitiating the loyal sentiment of the country, mask the logical conclusion from their own premises—the right of every State to representation in Congress by traitors or otherwise—because it was known that in the present temper of the country such a conclusion would not be tolerated in all its naked deformity. Many good people, without stopping to think how or why, are ready to argue that the late Confederate States ought to be represented in Congress, who in no event would consent that the leaders and prominent actors in and promoters of the rebellion should take seats in Congress as Senators and Representatives. But this is the very end that the present Congress are trying to reach—in the only legal and safe method—by an amendment to the Constitution, which will give these States the right of representation in Congress, and at the same time disqualify such men—the leaders and promoters of the rebellion—from sitting in Congress. Yet the Johnson Convention, in its desire to commend itself to the loyal sentiment of the country, is driven to concede, indirectly, to the Congress they wish elected, the very odious power which they artfully pretend the present Congress wrongfully arrogates to itself. The address declares that Congress should "admit to seats in either branch every loyal Representative from every State in allegiance to the Government." If this declaration means anything—if it is not intended to deceive and palter in a double sense, it is equivalent to an affirmation that Congress ought not to admit disloyal representatives, nor any representatives from a "State not in allegiance to the Government." If this be so, and it is too plain for argument, what follows? Plainly this—who are loyal representatives and who are not, what States are "in allegiance to the Government" and what are not, according to the Philadelphia platform, are questions to be determined by Congress at each session thereof, now and for all time to come.

But questions of this kind—mixed questions of fact and motive—when determined by Congress, are inevitably controlled by the opinions and interests of political magistrates. Under such a state of things, it is easy to foresee that Congress, instead of being a representative assembly, chosen by the free suffrages of the people, would degenerate into close corporation, into which no man would be admitted as a representative from any State, unless he substantially agreed in political opinion and conduct with the majority of the House. Then the only and sufficient test of loyalty would be agreement with the greater number. This would be transferring to the domain of politics Bishop Warburton's convenient and accommodating test of the true doxy: "Orthodoxy is my doxy—heterodoxy is another man's doxy." This dangerous doctrine, for it deserves no milder term, was first announced, as we recollect, by the President himself, during the past summer, in one of his balcony speeches, in which, while maintaining the right of the late Confederate States to representation in Congress, he undertook to parry the conclusion therefrom, that thereby traitors might be admitted as representatives, by declaring substantially that if these States should not send loyal representatives, then Congress could and ought to kick them out—send them home, and tell the people that if they wanted to be represented in Congress, they must elect loyal representatives. The idea by whomever announced, is a mockery of the first principles of a representative government.

The power conferred upon each House by the Constitution to "be the judge of the relations and qualifications of its own members," is judicial in its nature, and only extends to the qualifications prescribed by the Constitution itself. These qualifications are age, citizenship and residence. Tried by these tests, political opinions or conduct are neither a qualification nor dis qualification. If the member elect is found qualified as to age, citizenship and residence, and he elected from a State in the Union entitled to representation in Congress, his constituents in all other respects are the sole and exclusive judges of his fitness for the place. They are the judges of his loyalty and not the Congress or the Philadelphia Convention. The conduct of a representative after he has taken his seat, the House can take cognizance of, but not before, unless it be where he has forfeited the right to hold office as a punishment for a crime of which he has been duly convicted, and in such a case the record of conviction should be conclusive.

If this proposition of the Philadelphia platform is honestly intended as a rule of congressional action by the leaders of the Johnson party, they have effectually answered the charge they bring against the present Congress—even if it were true—that is, of assuming the power to arbitrarily exclude representatives from States in the Union, and entitled to representation. But the strong probability is that in this enunciation the Convention only intended to throw a tub to the whale to disguise their real purpose, until they could get the power to bring into the Union and Congress the late Confederate States without condition and with the leaders and promoters of the rebellion as Senators and Representatives. If the President of the late Southern Confederacy is elected Senator of the late Confederate State of Mississippi, the probabilities are that a Congress of the Philadelphia Convention would find him "a loyal representative from a State in allegiance to the Government."

To this complexion must it come at last—either the leaders of the Johnson party must adhere to the letter of their platform and graft upon Congress the arbitrary powers to pass upon the loyalty of a member elect to sit in judgment upon questions of qualification unknown to the Constitution as it now exists or treat that platform as a political device to obtain power, and admit to Congress the President of the late Southern Confederacy, if returned by the late Confederate State of Mississippi.

Compare for a moment with this piece of political juggling the comprehensive and straightforward plan of the present Congress. Recognizing the fact that the rebellion and consequent civil war has changed the relations of certain States to the Union they proceed to adjust these relations upon a stable foundation, and in accordance with the present condition of things. Assuming what no one can successfully deny, that this readjustment must commence with Congress, they propose an amendment to the Constitution, which, if ratified will disqualify the leaders of the rebellion from holding office under the United States. Thereafter those coming within the disqualifying clause are not eligible to seats in Congress, while those without are eligible. Then, political conduct and opinions are passed upon by their constituents and not by the fluctuating opinions of mere majorities in Congress. The vice of the Philadelphia platform is that it assumes that the late Confederate States are entitled to representation in Congress, just as if the rebellion had never occurred. To avoid the unpopular consequences of this position its authors were driven to set up this Congressional power of a limiting or rejecting particular members on the ground of their loyalty or disloyalty. The virtue of the Congressional plan is that it recognizes the fact that the late Confederate States are not entitled to representation in Congress either now or until their relations with the Union can be restored upon a permanent basis compatible with the public good and future peace and prosperity of the whole country.—Bulletin.

A Portrait

The Atlantic Monthly paints the character of Andrew Johnson, thus:

The President of the United States has so singular a combination of defects for the office of a constitutional Magistrate that he could have obtained the opportunity to misrule the nation only by a visitation of Providence. Insincere as well as stubborn, cunning as well as unreasonable, vain as well as ill tempered, greedy of popularity as well as arbitrary in disposition, veering in his mind as well as fixed in his will, he unites in his character the seemingly opposite qualities of demagogue and autocrat, and converts the Presidential chair into a stump or throne, according as the impulse seizes him to cajole or to command. Doubtless much of the evil developed in him is due to his misfortune in having been lifted by events to a position which he lacked the elevation and breadth of intelligence adequately to fill. He was cursed with the possession of a power and authority which no man of a narrow mind, bitter prejudices and inordinate self estimation can exercise without depriving himself as well as injuring the nation. Being egotistic to the point of mental disease, he resented the direct and manly opposition of statesmen to his opinions and moods as a personal affront, and descended to the last degree of littleness in a political leader, that of betraying his party in order to gratify his spite. He of course became the prey of intriguers and sycophants—of persons who understand the art of managing minds which are at once arbitrary and weak, by allowing them to retain unity of will amid the most palpable inconsistencies of opinion, so that inconsistency to principle shall not weaken force of purpose, nor the emphasis be at all abated with which they may bless to-day what yesterday they cursed. Thus the abhorrer of traitors has now become their tool. Thus the denouncer of Copperheads has now sunk into dependence on their support. Thus the imposer of conditions of reconstruction has now become the foremost friend of the unconditional return of the rebel States. Thus the furious Union Republican whose harangues against his political opponents, almost scared his political friends by their violence, has now become the shameless betrayer of the people who trusted him. And in all these changes of base he has appeared supremely conscious, in his own mind of playing an independent, a consistent and especially a conscientious part. Indeed Johnson's character would be imperfectly described if some attention was not paid to his conscience, the purity of which is a favorite of his own discourse, and the perversity of which is the wonder of the rest of mankind.

PURITY OF CHARACTER.—Henry Ward Beecher draws the following beautiful parallels:

"Over the beauty of the plum and apricot there grows a bloom and beauty more exquisite than the fruit itself—a soft delicate flush that overspreads its blushing cheek. Now if you strike your hand over that, and it is once gone, it is gone forever, for it never grows but once. The flower that hangs in the morning, impearled with dew—arrayed with jewels—once shake it, so that the beads roll off, and you may sprinkle water over it as you please, yet it can never be made again what it was when the dew fell slightly upon it from heaven! On a frosty morning you may see the panes of glass covered with landscapes, mountains, lakes and trees, blended in a beautiful fantastic picture. Now lay your hand upon the glass, and by a scratch of your finger, or by the warmth of the palm all the delicate tracery will be obliterated. So there is in youth a beauty and purity of character, which, when once touched and defiled, can never be restored; a fringe more delicate than frost work, and which, when torn and broken, will never be re-embroidered. A man who had spotted and soiled his garments in youth, though he may seek to make them white again, can never wholly do it, even if he were to wash them with tears. When a young man leaves his father's house, with the blessing of his mother's tears still wet upon his forehead, if he at once loses that early purity of character, it is a loss that he can never make whole again. Such is the consequence of crime. Its effects can never be eradicated; it can only be forgiven."

A CUTE YANKEE.—Andy Cummins, who used to live out near Farmingham, was a "cute down-easter"—a real live Yankee, hard to beat. He was once in a country barroom "down South" where several gentlemen were assembled, when one of them said:

"Yankee Cummins, if you'll go out and stick your pen knife into anything, when you come back I'll tell what it's stickin' in."

"Yer can do no such thing!" responded Cummins.

"I'll bet ten dollars of it," answered the Southerner.

"Wall, I rather guess I'll take that ere bet! Here, captain," (turning to the landlord,) "hold the stakes, and I'll just make a saw horse in less than no time."

The parties deposited an X apiece, and Cummins went on his mission, but in a short time he returned, saying:

"Wal, neighbor, what is it sticking in?"

"In the handle," replied the Southerner, holding out his hand for the stakes.

"Guess not—just wait a minute," said the Yankee, as he held up the handle of the knife, minus the blade. "I kalkilate the blade can't be in the handle, when it's driv clean up in an old stump aside of yer road out thar."

Cummins, of course, won the wager, and the Southerner sloped for parts unknown, amid roars of laughter.

SOUR GRAPES.—A friend related to us one morning a scene in a school room which we think will do to publish and is too good to keep. It is the custom in the school to read a moral lesson each morning, when the teacher questions the scholars on what has been read. The day our friends visited the school the lesson was in regard to the taking of fruit, and was a sort of narrative in which it was stated a teacher had told his class not to touch the fruit which grew in a neighboring orchard, but to wait until it was perfectly ripe and they should all have a share of it. They all disobeyed the command with the exception of one little girl, she alone refraining from touching the fruit. The first question asked by the teacher was:

"Which did right, the little girl or the others of the class?"

The unanimous answer was

"The little girl."

The next question was

"Why did not the little girl also take the fruit?"

This appeared to puzzle the class, and for a long time no one was ready to answer. At length a little fellow at the bottom of the class held up his hand, which was equivalent to saying that he could give the answer. He was told to proceed, when he astonished the teacher and convulsed our friend by exclaiming,

"Pleath, sir, she wath too little to reach the fruit!"

THE PRESIDENT'S TOUR.—Norwalk, O., 11:45 A. M.—Train stopped here a few minutes. The President, Secretary Seward, General Grant, Admiral Farragut and others appeared on the platform of the car. The anxiety to see the party was intense. Cheers were given and a salute fired. The President made a brief speech in which he said he wanted to heal the wounds inflicted upon the country, and desired no more shedding of blood. A man in the crowd exclaimed "Why did you not stop it at New Orleans?" to which the President responded he should like to see that man's face. Could an American citizen express such a sentiment without being insulted? The cars at that moment began to move, leaving the man who had asked the question closely surrounded by his dissenting neighbors.

SUDDEN AND SINGULAR DEATHS AT NIAGARA FALLS.—Tuesday afternoon a colored man named Holmes died suddenly at Niagara Falls. The evening previous he had been to the circus and returned home in his usual health. He was a very corpulent man, and well known in the village. His wife was of enormous size and formerly traveled with circuses and side shows exhibiting. Two or three hours after her husband's death she called her two grown up girls to her and said: "Well girls, you must do the best you can for yourselves; the old man has gone and I'm going too." She sat in a chair and immediately expired.—Buffalo Courier.

It is intended to bring the remains of Dr. Dostie to Chicago and give him a grand burial.

THE PRESIDENTIAL PARTY.—The New York Tribune gives the following sketch of the Presidential party as witnessed in that city:

The personal appearance of the principal members of the Presidential party is generally familiar. When they arrived in New York all looked dusty and to a certain extent travel worn. The President dressed throughout in plain black, and this shaven more anxious apparently than gratified listened to the address of Stewart with his head thrown somewhat forward, evidently in deep thought. His hair is sprinkled with gray, but there is the semblance at least of fire in his eyes and vigor in his body. There is persistence in his face, obstinacy perhaps, a look of that unmitigable and powerful perseverance which grows by resistance, some kindliness, evidently a man easily managed by those who praise liberally but utterly intractable when criticised. He smiled when the address was completed evidently pleased.

William H. Seward stood by the side of the President, apparently unconscious of what was being uttered. The contrast between the two men was great. One large and dark and fresh, the other small and pale and wan; the one anxious, the other careless as to what was passing, but both evidently pondering, in a different way the same subject. The deep heavy scar, received at the time Johnson was made President is still plainly visible. The Secretary stood beside his chief and seemed lost to the present with his eyes turned inward rather than upon outward objects.

General Grant with his imperturbable manner was precisely as we have often seen him, with one exception. He was not smoking. Dressed in his usual style, a regulation hat, minus the decorations authorized in any regulations, a military coat, bearing on the shoulders the insignia of his rank, and dark pantaloons, there was little in his appearance to attract attention. His beard cut short, lips compressed, despite the agreeable smile that rippled over his almost expressionless face, a manner utterly and permanently quiet, a countenance far beyond the reach of agitation, he looked as if he would not be disturbed if the world crumbled at his feet.

Secretary Welles is tall, and wears a long gray beard, which harmonizes with the color of his hair and adds somewhat to the peculiar owlishness of his great spectacled eyes. He is a picture of conservatism.

Admiral Farragut is tall, slender, and looks every inch a man. There is somewhat Lear like in his face, and his eyes show the intrepidity and undaunted courage that made him the hero that he is. He wore a cap and coat bearing the mark of his rank in the navy, and stood among his companions above them all. Farragut would attract attention in a crowded thoroughfare, but his face would never say that he loved war, though it is one that an enemy might fear when anger flushed it or kindled into a flame the latent fire of the eyes, which give it an expression so kindly and so genial.

FIEND FORREST.—At a late Johnson ratification meeting in Memphis, Gen. Forrest presided. He said there was no decision in the late war and he proposed now to go to the ballot-box. The fighting accomplished nothing and he wanted no more of it. He indorsed the Philadelphia Convention as a whole. Among the Vice Presidents announced was Recorder Creighton. Gen. Stoneman took a seat beside Forrest. Resolutions declaring Congress a usurping rump were loudly cheered. They indorsed the Philadelphia Convention, but cheered emphatically the clause declaring resistance to despotism essential to freedom. Col. Gustavus Henry said that the South got nearly all at Philadelphia it could ask for. The abolition of Slavery, however, was a cruel mistake. The South rebelled to save the Constitution. He declared that the Southerners would have been unworthy of their fathers if they had allowed the North to take four millions of property without fighting for it. Since the abolition of Slavery the delicate hands of Southern women would no longer wipe the clamminess of death from the brows of the negro. He eulogized Johnson extravagantly, and declared if the terms offered at Philadelphia had been offered before the war no war would have occurred. Gen. Stoneman declared the war a finality. They must now be reconciled, as the soldiers who did the fighting were reconciled. He said nothing of the Philadelphia Convention. Speeches were made by Haynes, Avery and Cameron, all fiercely attacking and threatening Gov. Brownlow and the State Government. They declared they would yet put their foot on the necks of the Radicals in Tennessee in spite of all they could do. Forrest was enthusiastically cheered; Johnson but slightly. Great disgust was felt among the Union men that Gen. Stoneman should prostitute his rank to serve the party which is raising heaven and earth to proscribe and drive from the State his late comrades in the service.

THE STENOGRAPHIC TELEGRAPH.—We learn from the Illustrated London News that two English gentlemen (Captain Bolton and George Snell, official shorthand writers to the Court of Bankruptcy, London) "have been found to abbreviate even electric telegraphy, and seem each to have been busily inventing a code of telegraphy which will enable the company to meet the demands put upon them by their success," and that "Cyrus Field is desirous of applying Snell's scheme to the vast and almost interminable land wires of the American telegraphs." If this be true, says an Eastern exchange, and there seems no good reason why a single sign or signal should not represent a word as well as a letter, the whole system of telegraphy will undergo a great change, less time will be occupied in the transmission of messages, and it ought to follow that less money will be paid for telegrams. When an arbitrary sign represents a word, much time and trouble will be saved. It should be remembered, too, that this stenographic action will be applicable to submarine as well as to land telegraphs. Should Field succeed in adopting it in the Atlantic telegraph, it must follow ere long that the tariff of prices will be greatly reduced. At present the price is a dollar a letter, but when a single letter represents a whole word there will be full room for reducing the charge to the public. Most probably, arbitrary signs for only a limited number of words (those most commonly in use) will be adopted; but when we mention that an intelligent child, ten years old, who can speak fluently upon ordinary subjects, does so out of a vocabulary of between three and four hundred words, it will be obvious that double that number will go a great way in communicating by the wires, whether on land or sea. To some little extent this has been done since the first telegraph was established between Washington and Baltimore—cyphers sometimes representing words in many commercial communications. The new system, if successful, will almost revolutionize telegraphy.

GENERAL GRANT AND THE PRESIDENT.—The Philadelphia Bulletin says there is no reason why General Grant's position should be questioned, and adds:

There can be but little doubt that the country is indebted to him for the publication of the important dispatches of General Sheridan on the subject of the New Orleans massacre. There was an evident purpose on the part of the President to suppress these damaging dispatches, and there is every reason to believe that General Grant has insisted upon their being given to the public as a vindication of General Sheridan from the false position in which he was placed by the publication of one garbled dispatch from him and the withholding of the rest. General Grant is too staunch a friend of his gallant lieutenant to permit such injustice to be done him, and by thus placing before the country the unqualified language in which General Sheridan denounces the vile assassins who now rule New Orleans he has done the public a great service. He is as fearless of Andrew Johnson as "Phil Sheridan" has proved himself to be, and it is fortunate for the interests of the country that there are a few men who can tell the truth, unpalatable as it is in the White House, without being at once sacrificed to the relentless policy which now rules the actions of the President of the United States.

Gen. Sheridan having spoken of the butchery at New Orleans as "a massacre by the police, not excelled in cruelty by that of Fort Pillow," we are tempted to inquire what has become of Gen. N. B. Forrest, the author of the masterpiece of murder from which that of New Orleans was modeled. A telegram dated Memphis, August 25, answers with the statement that an immense mass meeting was held there that evening to ratify the proceedings of the Convention at Philadelphia. Gen. Forrest presided at the ratification meeting. Presided? Yes—over the accumulated bones of two massacres, and addressed the meeting in ratification of three—Memphis, New Orleans and Fort Pillow!—[illegible]

WHERE COULD HE HAVE PUT IT.—The Mobile Times records a suicide as follows: The headless body of a man was found lying in state on his own bed. A letter was found in the hands of the victim which ran thus: "I have put an end to my own life—I was tired of existence in this ungrateful land—and I left it of my own free will. There is money in my drawer to pay my funeral expenses. As to my name, try not to discover it. To prevent identification I have [illegible] my own head where you will never find it."
